CAMP GREEN MAY BE ABANDONED

Insanitary Conditions Reported to Secretary Baker by Surgeon-General Gorgas.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Insanitary conditions prevailing at Camp Green, Charlotte, N. C., were called to the attention of Secretary Baker today by Surgeon-General Gorgas who set forth that bad drainage and overcrowding are endangering the health of troops there.

Wet weather, character of the soil and the temporary character of the camp, the surgeon-general says, are responsible. The war department is disposed to abandon the camp site but local interests are urging its retention. Knee deep mud, impossibility of removing garbage, limited bathing facilities, standing pools of stagnant water, the certainty of breeding large crops of flies and other undesirable conditions, the surgeon-general says, make the abandonment of the camp advisable before warm weather. Secretary Baker has promised the Carolinians to make a personal investigation.

EARL HALSBURY VIGOROUS AT 94

LONDON, Jan. 31.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Much is continually written, says the Daily Graphic, regarding the youthful vigor of the Earl of Halsbury, who still makes his appearance in the house of lords despite the weight of his ninety-four years, but no mention is made of the little Lord Petre, the youngest peer of the realm.

"Incredible almost as it may appear, there is a difference of ninety-one years between the ages of the former lord chancellor and the present head of the Catholic house of Petre, who is not quite four, and who will be unable, of course, to take his seat in parliament until 1935!"

Phosphate Will Strengthen Your Weak Nerves

DRUGGISTS SUPPLY IN TABLET FORM AND PURCHASERS RECEIVE BINDING GUARANTEE, SATISFACTION OR MONEY BACK.

Weak nerves rob men and women of all the joy of life and quickly reduce the strong and robust to a condition which is pitiable in the extreme. This condition is brought about slowly and stealthily in the majority of cases, and the poor sufferer fails to realize what is wrong until they need food and nourishment. Nothing could be more harmful or more dangerous. The nerves are weak and exhausted; they need food and nourishment. Nothing could be more harmful or more dangerous. The nerves are weak and exhausted; they need food and nourishment. Nothing could be more harmful or more dangerous. The nerves are weak and exhausted; they need food and nourishment.

STARTED LIFE BY GATHERING COCKLES

(Associated Press Correspondence.)—LONDON, Jan. 31.—Sir George Slight, a native of Cleethorpes, whose name appears in the New Years Honors list, is fond of relating the fact that as a boy he earned money by gathering cockles on the sand. After a time he was able to buy a donkey and cart from which he retailed the cockles.

BOX ELDER NEWS

BRIGHAM CITY, Feb. 12.—At a meeting of the Box Elder County Farm bureau held in this city yesterday, a resolution was presented and unanimously adopted accepting the best prices for 1918 as agreed upon at a recent conference of farmers held in Logan concerning the 1918 beet harvest. The beet growers, however, expressed considerable dissatisfaction at the $9.00 per ton rate on the ground that beets, they claim, cannot be grown at this price. While the farmers are dissatisfied with the arrangements, they will remain patriotic and grow as many beets as they can in 1918, which is the desire of the government to combat with the great sugar shortage. It is apparent that the present arrangements are only temporary and that after the harvest this year the farmers will insist on a higher price for their beets or refuse to grow them.

TOTAL LOSS ON TUSCANIA 267

First Definite Information to Reach Relatives Regarding Soldiers Unreported.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—With 164 American soldiers of the Tuscania known to be dead and buried on the Scottish coast, an unofficial estimate today places the total loss of American troops at 267. After eliminating from the passenger list the names of the survivors and the identified dead and accounting for thirty-three unidentified dead, 136 soldiers still are not accounted for and it is believed they were lost.

The partial list of the Tuscania's dead, sent by the Associated Press correspondent from a Scottish seaport today as having been buried on the Scottish coast, is the first definite information to reach relatives of the soldiers who have not been reported in the lists of survivors. War department officials have been helpless to answer appeals for information regarding soldiers unreported.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR THE ENLISTED

"Men who have ever had a desire to travel, to get experience, to see the world and to profit thereby, can find no better opportunity than at present in their country's service," said Sergeant George F. Smith today at the local recruiting station of the United States army. Sergeant Smith has been transferred to Ogden from Pocatello by the recruiting officer for the district and will be in charge of the local station for some time. The sergeant has been in active service in several campaigns for Uncle Sam and knows the same from many angles.

WAR AND THE OLD SCHOOL

It was during a more or less secret conference in Washington early last spring, just before war was declared. Many prominent men were present. Both from the north and from the south. The newspapers naturally were anxious to get opinions first hand from the members of the different committees, but found it a hard job. One reporter finally fairly cornered a courteous southerner—an elderly man of the "old school."
